Construction Law Update

2016

January 13, 2016 4:30pm – 7:00pm

The presentation will focus on a review of new and noteworthy employment and labor laws and regulations effective in 2015 and how these impact the construction industry's workforce. This will include information regarding skilled workforce requirements, and electronic certified payroll requirements.

The presentation will be discussing recent court decisions which impact contractors. These decisions will include the validity of lease-leaseback delivery systems that discuss the Davis v. Fresno Unified School District case. This decision deals with lease-leaseback and the issue of competitive bidding on lease-leaseback projects.

The Court of Appeal recently issued a decision in Jeff Tracy, Inc. v. City of Pico Rivera with important implications with respect to the requirements to be proven for a contractor to collect in a lawsuit.

We will be discussing Centex v. St. Paul Fire and Marine which discusses the important issues related to the availability of independent counsel for contractors involved in construction defect cases.

The presentation will be made by Kevin T. Cauley, Esq. and Sierra J. Spitzer, Esq. of Schwartz Semerdjian Cauley & Moot LLP.

This will be an information packed event, RSVP immediately!
